

Fathers Absence – Work Conflicts

Men's definition of success has changed...it is now divided equally between being involved with the kids and providing for them.

- James Levine, The Boston Herald, July 2002

- The U.S. does not guarantee any paid leave to fathers.
- Working fathers were also less like to report using their company's work-family programs (34%) compared to working mothers (54%)
- As one father, the history of my own absence from my children is appalling...
